Dear members,

We are pleased to invite you to participate in the two important events that AMCE has planned for this year, in which your participation as business partners will be essential to the success of each one.

The first of these events is the Endoscopic Surgery Echoes Edition, which will take place on September 1 and 2, 2025. In this edition, we will have three international speakers and will offer ten surgery modules based on the SAGES 2025 guidelines. It will be an excellent opportunity to update knowledge, exchange experiences, and strengthen ties in the field of endoscopic surgery.

The second event is the World Congress of Surgery, which will be held from April 19 to 23 at Camino Real, Polanco. This congress will bring together leading experts and professionals from around the world, providing an ideal platform for the dissemination of advances and new technologies in surgery.

Attached to this letter are the brochures for both events for your consideration and planning.

We hope to count on your valuable participation in these meetings, which will undoubtedly enrich the experience of all attendees and strengthen our community.

We thank you in advance for your support and collaboration, and we remain at your disposal for any questions or additional information.

International Surgical Week ISW 2026

The World's Congress of Surgery 51st World Congress of the International Society of Surgery ISS/SIC
19 - 23 April 2026 Mexico City, Mexico Jointly organized with the 34th International Congress of the Mexican Association of Endoscopic Surgery

ABOUT AMCE

The Mexican Association of Endoscopic Surgery (AMCE) is a leading organization dedicated to promoting excellence, innovation, and training in the field of endoscopic surgery in Mexico. Our primary objective is to bring together healthcare professionals, surgeons, and specialists committed to advancing minimally invasive techniques that benefit the health and well-being of patients. Since our founding, we have worked to foster continuing education, research, and collaboration among our members, as well as to promote best practices in endoscopic surgery at the national and international levels. Through conferences, courses, workshops, and academic activities, we seek to keep our members at the forefront of technological and scientific advances in this specialty. At AMCE, we believe in the importance of community, innovation, and professional ethics, with a commitment to providing quality care and contributing to the development of endoscopic surgery in Mexico. With over 2,000 MEMBERS, AMCE is one of the leading associations in Mexico.

ABOUT ISS/SIC

Toward the end of the 19th century the first national surgical societies were founded. Some influential surgeons of that time believed that indeed a broad international forum was highly desirable. So the first international surgical society, “La Société Internationale de Chirurgie” (SIC) was founded in Brussels in 1902. At the congress of Belgian surgeons, distinguished European surgeons came together to form the SIC. In 1979 upon majority vote by the General Assembly the headquarters of the Société was moved to Switzerland.

To meet the requirements of the Belgian laws, the Société therefore had to decide its own legal dissolution and to reconvene soon afterwards for its reconstitution under the new name of International Society of Surgery/Société Internationale de Chirurgie ISS/SIC. Over the last 112 years medicine and surgery experienced dramatic progress barely imaginable to the founders of the society.

The International Society of Surgery/Société Internationale de Chirurgie (ISS/SIC), with more than 3,000 members from 104 countries today, is dedicated to the exchange of knowledge, innovation, and experience in surgery. The ISS/SIC, with its four Integrated Societies (IATSIC, IASMEN, BSI, ISDS), accomplishes its mission by sponsoring the International Surgical Week (ISW) the World's Congress of Surgery every other year, through the World Journal of Surgery, and by offering postgraduate courses worldwide. In addition, the ISS Foundation supports research and educational activities for surgeons who are in the greatest need of assistance through travel scholarships.

Today, the ISS/SIC aims to promote not only high standards of practice in the art of surgery, to support the advancement of science within and among specialties through clinical investigation and laboratory research but also to support the basic and specialty fields of general surgery in the less privileged countries and to establish collegiality, and to facilitate the exchange of ideas on a formal and informal basis. Together with the base of general and gastrointestinal surgery, the four Integrated Societies form the backbone of ISS/SIC as listed on page 4. They are represented in the World Journal of Surgery and are the main contributors to the scientific program of the International Surgical Week (ISW).
